TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- Individual tuition is $300 per term or $350 for non-King's School students.
- Group tuition for Speech & Drama lessons only is $200.
- A term consists of 8 lessons or 32 lessons per year.
- All private tuition lessons are in addition to class programmes and will run for 30 minutes.
- All first year brass students must have private tuition for at least 1 term.
- Lessons are generally rotated from week to week to ensure students do not regularly miss the same subject.
- Prep and Junior School Students should take no more than 1 private tuition lesson per term and this lesson must be taken outside of core curriculum (reading and maths).
- Middle and Senior School students should not take more than 2 private tuition lesson during school time.
- The Director of Music will allocate the private tutors and may make tutor changes as necessary.
- If a student discontinues lessons during the term, the full term fees are still payable.
- Additional or extra lessons can be arranged at the discretion of the Director of Music.
- If a student misses a lesson, it is the student's responsibility to notify their tutor or the Director of Music in advance. The tutor is not obliged to make up the lesson unless suitable notice is provided.
- If the tutor misses a lesson due to illness or other circumstances, the tutor will make up the lesson or a relieving tutor will be provided.
- The cost of music books and examination fees is additional.
- All fees and costs will be charged to your school account on a term-by-term basis.

If you have any questions about private tuition please contact the Director of Music to discuss further.
